LECTION IN MAZE

hope That Ultimate Results Are No Count Completed

THE ELECTION AND ASSOCIATED PRESS

The election situation tonight, with uncertainty continuing to come in, is such that it is impossible to get an accurate idea of how the returns stand in any constituency, and those of the candidates mentioned as among the elected have not yet been officially declared so.

The declarations announced today, however, greatly increased the confidence of the government in its supporters, and tended to bring the chief parties of the opposition to a realization of the situation.

Neither the Farmers nor the dependents fared well in the round of the balloting. The standing feature of the election has been the extraordinary loss of votes by the party already mentioned.

The main feature of the election is that the government and the Republicans are the chief parties. The government, however, outnumbers the Republicans by more than 2 to 1.

Both figures are above the count, but it is expected that each will be increased as the count comes in. De Valera probably carries two other Republicans with him.

At 11 o'clock this evening, returns indicating the election of twenty-seven government members, nine Republicans, four Farmers, Labor and Independent groups, and four other Republicans.

START FIGHT ON HIGH FILM RENT

Theater Owners Organize in East for Drive
Nation-Wide Distribution of Pictures Planned
High Salaries Paid to Stars Blamed for Trouble

(BY A. P. DAY WIRE)
NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—A drive to checkmate and to whip into line the motion-picture interests which are demanding higher film rentals and higher motion-picture prices—prices with a "top" of $2—was reported today to be behind the announcement of the Theater Owners' Distributing Corporation that it would start nation-wide distribution of pictures in October.

Theater owners representing an investment of more than $20,000,000 and scattered throughout the country were said to be interested in the distributing company, which was organized last December, and which opposed the upward trend of prices in motion pictures at recent conventions of producers in Minneapolis and Washington.

Officers of the new corporation are: President, W. A. True; vice-president, Harry Davis; treasurer, J. J. Dittmar; secretary, W. D. Burford; chairman of the Board of Directors, Sydney S. Cohen. Mr. Cohen, for four years, has been president of the Motion-Picture Theater Owners of America.

Messrs. Davis, Burford and True are members of the board of directors of that organization, and Mr. Dittmar is president of the Motion-Picture Theater Owners of Kentucky.

Discussing the owners' plans to distribute their own pictures, Mr. True said today:

"The exhibitors protest against the folly of the $2 admission charge and the attitude of many of the national distributors who are trying to obtain more than the business can legitimately bear. We believe that our success holds on the fundamental policy of healthy entertainment at small prices."

"The exhibitors are frequently unable to supply the public with what it wants under the present system of distribution, whereby we are frequently forced to book pictures, eight or ten, six months in advance of their actual showing. We have even been forced to buy pictures before they were made."

"The whole system has tended to disregard the public's wishes. Bad pictures have not been wholly the fault of the exhibitors. This we will correct. Under our plan we will accept the desires of the public."

"We are opposed to the outrageously high salaries paid to stars, while tremendously high costs are passed on to the public. We are opposed to misleading stories about the quality of pictures. We are prepared to fight the cause of the independent producer, who is at the mercy of the big companies, under the present system."

NEW YORK, Aug. 28.—The German mark dropped to another new low record for all time today, selling at 16 cents a million. The last low was 12 cents a million.

WARFARE AT FIUME EXPECTED

Trainloads of Artillery and Battleships Arrive From Trieste

(BY CABLE-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
(Copyright, Chicago Tribune)
FIUME, Aug. 29.—During last night four trainloads of mountain artillery and ammunition arrived at Fiume from Trieste, while at the same time three Italian dreadnaughts, accompanied by destroyers, arrived at Pola.

The news of the Italian concentration began to leak out in Fiume at midnight and caused a sleepless night for many, as an Italian offensive has been expected for the past two weeks.

Early this morning trains going to Fiume-Slavia and Austria were loaded with people not of the Italian race who fear that Premier Mussolini will take action on the expiration of the 31st inst. of his virtual ultimatum to Jugo-Slavia, demanding that Belgrade submit to Rome's demands regarding the settlement of the Fiume question.

Information has been received here to the effect that Jugo-Slavia does not intend to yield to the Italian ultimatum and it is feared that Signor Mussolini's threatened "action" may take any form. It is certain that the Fascist party favors the seizing of Fiume by force. Italians here daily in favor of such action.

STATE STILL LEADS IN OIL PRODUCTION
(BY A. P. DAY WIRE)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Domestic production of crude petroleum attained the record average of 2,104,742 barrels a day during July, according to a report on the industry issued today by the Geological Survey.

Daily average imports were 222,419, and average daily exports 222,419, and average daily production was 2,104,742 barrels. The survey by the Geological Survey found that the current year national production aggregated 463,000,000 barrels during the same period of 1922.

California continued to hold first place in crude oil output in July, with a total output for the month of 25,557,000 barrels. Oklahoma was second with 14,675,000 barrels and Texas third with 10,622,000 barrels.

YUKON BOAT TRAVEL TO CLOSE DOWN SOON
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
SEATTLE, Aug. 29.—Announcement was received here today from the Interior Department that the last Alaska railroad boat of the season will leave Nenana, Alaska, September 19, for Holy Cross, Alaska. The announcement said that service on the Yukon River by the railroad boats between Nenana and Holy Cross would be resumed when the ice goes out in the spring.

LEGION STARTS PACT CAMPAIGN

Committee Seeks Election of Project Supporter
Entry and Opponent to Split Democratic Support

Los Angeles Engineer Will Make Cotton Survey
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
PHOENIX, Aug. 28.—The American Legion, putting into effect its declaration at the last State meeting, has started on its campaign for "putting over" the Colorado River compact. Frank Luke, Jr., Post No. 1, of Phoenix, has named a nonpartisan committee of twenty-six to work for the election of R. G. Langmade as Representative from the Eleventh Legislative District of Maricopa county to fill a vacancy.

Mr. Langmade is for the pact. His opponent has stated he has not quite made up his mind on the subject and hence is rated as against the measure. Both are Democrats. Mr. Langmade's campaign is to be made by the American Legion Pro-Compact Committee, with E. S. Stallcup at its head.

The State convention, which manifested a degree of hostility toward the State administration, formal request of Gov. Hunt that he call a special legislative session for pact ratification. The same issue is the only one in Coconino county, where the Republican nominee, Col. Fred Breen, is for the pact and his Democratic opponent is understood to have not declared himself.

ELDERLY FOLK WED
James E. Sellers, a Los Angeles statistical engineer, formerly with the Arizona Highway Department and with the Phoenix city engineering department, is here to make full statistical and industrial survey of cotton growing and ginning in the Salt River Valley.

A similar survey was made by him last year, covering both the California and Arizona fields.

W. T. Hughes of Chandler and Mary Brewer of Phoenix have been united in marriage by a Phoenix justice of the peace. The groom is 46, while the bride is 46. Possibly indicating that age need not necessarily be conservative or slow is the fact that the couple had met only six days before. Both are newcomers, the bridegroom a Texan.

OLD-TIMER CELEBRATES
Thomas Cowan Barkley, for thirty-five years a resident of this valley, has celebrated his ninety-seventh birthday. The guest of eight of his children at an open-air dinner. He is still hale, attends to his business personally and takes his exercise horseback. He is looking forward with pleasurable anticipation to a great celebration planned by his children three years hence.

Mr. Barkley is a Tennessean by birth, coming to this valley after few years of residence in Central Texas. His arrival here was in 1887, soon after the death of his wife. Two sons have died, leaving families in their homes near Mesa.

GOURAUD HAS PRAISE FOR UNITED STATES
(BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS)
PARIS, Aug. 29.—Gen. Gouraud returned home today on the steamer France after his tour of the United States, convinced that the friendship America has for France is as deep as it was during the war. His first act on landing was to cable his thanks and lasting affection to his comrades of the Rainbow Division.

In an interview he described the emotion he felt when he greeted his American comrades of the great battle of July, 1918, the turning point of the war. Throughout the United States, he said, not only were the veterans of the war, but people of all classes so enthusiastic that he was overwhelmed by their kindness.

Many times the subject of the Ruhr was brought up to him by Americans, he added, and he found that their keen sense of justice demanded that those who had destroyed should repair. He asserted that he had tried to impress on Americans that there was no thought of annexation in the minds of France.

Gen. Gouraud said he had been told much about German propaganda in the United States, but that he noted only 5000 persons attended a vaudeville Germanophile meeting at Buffalo. The general, however, evidently proffered to speak about the beauty of America—the magnificent "palaces" of Washington, the City Hall of San Francisco, the wide, tree-guarded avenues and the green spots in the cities with the richness and taste of their residences.

He was enthusiastic about the Yosemite Valley, and the Grand Canyon of the Colorado.

MRS. WILSON VISITS NEWPORT EXHIBIT
CREATES MORE INTEREST THAN SHOW HORSES DO AT FASHIONABLE SHOW
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
NEWPORT (R. I.), Aug. 29.—Mrs. Woodrow Wilson's presence today at the closing events of the Newport Horse Show created more interest at the Casino than the equine attractions. The wife of the former President was the guest of Mrs. Harmon Hopkin, and there was much buzz-buzzing in that quarter as James W. Gerard, former Ambassador to Germany, and other prominent personages came up to greet the quondam first lady of the land.

The plump Mrs. Wilson was undeniably attractive, her straw hat of American beauty shade, trimmed with large roses and her long black cape with gray fur collar. She appeared tranquil and gracious, and there was not a hint of the long confinement she has undergone in her close watch of the former President's health.

Mrs. Hopkin recently purchased a villa on Redoubt Bay, where she now lives at the Munchenberger-King. She wore black.

Maiden Voyage of Propaganda Vessel Delayed

(BY CABLE-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
(Copyright, 1923, Public Ledger)
BERLIN, Aug. 29.—The maiden voyage of the giant German liner Columbus to America, which had been planned as a propaganda trip to let the world know what post-war German shipbuilding had accomplished, has been postponed because of delay in finishing the vessel.

It had been scheduled to sail from Bremen, October 10 with a mixed passenger list of newspapermen representing the German and foreign press, and German citizens prominent in political, commercial and social life.

The postponement, like everything that is behind schedule in Germany, is blamed on the Ruhr occupation. Many fixtures for the interior decoration and minor plumbing of the vessel, which is near completion in a Danzig shipyard, had been ordered in Ruhr Valley factories, but it is impossible to get deliveries.

The Columbus is being built to replace the liner of the same name which was launched a year before the war and was lost to Germany by the terms of the Versailles Treaty. The new Columbus, with 42,000 tons displacement and accommodations for 3000 passengers, is being built along the lines of the old Columbus.

SHIP HERO OF CHICAGO DISASTER DROPS DEAD
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—Capt. John Donovan, champion diver and hero of the Eastland disaster in 1915, when that ship capsized in the Chicago River, with the loss of 812 lives, dropped dead today. He died with his boots on aboard the tug Carter H. Harrison.

At the time of the sinking of the Eastland, which had been chartered for a lake trip and picnic by more than 2000 employees of the Western Electric Company, Capt. Donovan joined in the rescue work and recovered 148 bodies himself.

The condor, weighing from twenty to twenty-five pounds, is the largest bird of its kind.

CALIFORNIA CAPTURES RACE Southland Yacht Crosses Line First in "R" Boat Event at San Francisco

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29.—Southern California scored heavily today in the Pacific Coast championship regatta, when the California came back with a swish of spray that sent her across the line victor over the Rascal and Lady Gay of the Corinthian Club in the second
"R" class race off the Marina.
Matt Walsh, sailing the California Yacht Club's champion, shrewdly took advantage of the ebb in spots where he had failed to make allowances Monday. Also the Westerly Breeze today was lighter than for the first trial.
In the six-meter class the Peggy of the Californians in Los Angeles repeated her victory, beating the Lady Betty by four minutes.
In the third class Commodore
Charles Langlands of the Corinthian Yacht Club brought his Meteor, 2:28 handicap, home ahead of the scratch challenger, the Santa Barbara.

MAKES BEST TIME
The Westward again made the best time of the day over the fourteen mile interclub course, 1hr.
58m. 25s. She lost in the fourth handicap class, however, to the
third place.

Close Race
The "R" race was the closest yet provided for fans who gather on the Marina. The six starters got away "under a blanket." The California, profiting by the light weather, drew swiftly into the lead and was never headed. Francesca of the San Francisco Yacht Club made a bid for second place off Goat Island shore, but the Rascal and the Lady Gay flashed past the judge's stand perfectly even for runner-up honors as they began the last lap around the Presidio.
Buoy Lester Stone gained and at the finish was exactly fifty-nine seconds ahead of the Lady Gay, that placed him out for first place
by thirty-four seconds Monday.
The winner's time was 2:23.03.

The Elks have shown more class

Thornquest as pitcher and Cram through the season. The playing of Coach Malcolm Smith of the running and the hitting of the entire team has been responsible for putting them in the lead.

Ben Whitman has lined up a fast

welterweights, will have it out in the second bout. Both of these fights are sure to be crammed full of action from start to finish, particularly the first.

Frankie Tierney and Bat Teo 135-pounders, both favorites with the local fans will throw the gloves in the special event. Other bouts on the card are: Bud McCann vs.

Upsets Galore Feature Play
for Western Title

EXMOOR COUNTRY CLUB
(Highland Park, Ill.) Aug. 28.—

Upsets galore marked the second match round of the Women's Western Golf Association championship here today.
The first surprise was the defeat of Miss Virginia Wilson of Owensville at the hands of Miss Louise Fordyce of Youngstown, O., by 2 and 1. The second surprise came when Mrs. Melvin Jones of Olympia fields, the low medalist,
and a former western champion,
was eliminated by Miss Marjorie Burns of Westmoreland, 2 and 1.

SETS NEW MARK

Another feature was the setting of a new competitive course record
by Mrs. L. Reinhardt of Dallas, Tex., formerly Elaine Rosenthal of Chicago. She disposed of Mrs.
Robert Bennett of Indianapolis,
2 and 1, and negotiated the eight-teen holes in 83 strokes, which was 5 under par.

Mrs. F. C. Letts of Owensville, a three-time winner of the western title, looks like a likely candidate for final honors this year, due to her performance to date. Today she defeated Mrs. John Worley of Los Angeles, 2 up and 1 to play.
The most bitterly fought contest was that between Miss Elsie Hill-ing of Grand Rapids, the Michigan champion, and Mrs. J. W.
Taylor of Evanston. The winner was forced to the home green before getting the decision.

MISS PEP BEATEN

Another local star to fall by the wayside was Miss Dorothy Klotz of Indianapolis, who was eliminated
by Mrs. Harley Higbie of Detroit.
The latter player took the match,
5 and 4.
Miss Virginia Pep, the St. Louis champion, met defeat at the hands of Florence Halloran of Salt Lake City, 2 and 1.
The feature of the Wilson-Fordyce match was an eagle 4 on the second hole by Miss Wilson. She sank a twenty-foot putt to accomplish it.

The best contest was that between Mrs. Reinhardt and Mrs.
Bennett. It was a see-saw affair for the major portion of the round, and although Mrs. Bennett was defeated she played a brand of golf that would have won under ordinary conditions. She scored 42 and 43-55, 3 under par, but Mrs. Reinhardt's performance was such that it was next to impossible to win under those conditions.

SQUARES MATTERS

Mrs. Letts in eliminating Mrs.
Worley gained a lead of 2 up at the coming season.

FIRPO TELLS HOW HE WILL WHIP DEMPSEY; STORIES IN TIMES STARTING SATURDAY

Luis Angel Firpo, South American heavyweight boxing champion, who is matched to meet Jack Dempsey for the world's heavyweight title at New York on September 14 has agreed to write a daily story exclusively for The Times commencing next Saturday. Firpo will write his own articles in his native language and they will be translated for the readers of The Times.
In these stories the "Bull of the Pampas" will tell why he expects to win the championship from Dempsey and how he proposes to accomplish that task. He will relate his daily training experiences and the progress made for the forthcoming battle.
Firpo's own version of the fight will appear exclusively in
The Times on the morning following the big event.
Look for the Firpo features on these pages starting Saturday.
In addition to this feature, accurate reports from Firpo's training camp at Atlantic City, and Dempsey's quarters at White Sulphur Springs, N. Y., are chronicled daily by world renowned boxing experts.

BOSTON, Aug. 29.—Cincinnati lost half a game in its race with the Giants for the National League pennant by losing a ten-inning game to Boston today, 2 to 1. While the New York champions were idle, the winning run resulted from singles by Genewick and Felix, Nixon's sacrifice, an intentional pass to Southworth, which filled the bases, and McInnis' roller to third, which went in a hit, and permitted Genewick to score. The Reds scored their only run in the sixth on a pass to Duncan and singles by Hargrave and Pincelli. Score: CINCINNATI 1, BOSTON 2.

RECLUSE DIES MILLIONAIRE?

Ukiah Man Thought to be Worth $5,000,000

Philanthropist Takes Care of Interment

Was Mysterious Character
on West Coast

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
UKIAH, Aug. 29.—A letter from
M. J. Carroll, 22 Oak street, Hyde Park, Mass., to a local undertaker, directing him to bury the body of Dr. Richard Kahle, mysterious possessor of an asserted $5,000,000 estate without heirs, in some cemetery in or near Ukiah, was made public today. Dr. Kahle died suddenly at a medicinal springs in Lake county.

Although no documentary evidence had been made public to substantiate the statement, the attorney handling Dr. Kahle's affairs in Lake county told Superior Judge Hugh Preston of Mendocino county that the estate was valued at $5,000,000, and that no heirs were mentioned in any papers left by Dr. Kahle. Judge Preston announced. Although mysterious in his movements and living simply,
Dr. Kahle appeared to have plenty of money.

After Dr. Kahle died, the manager of the resort directed a letter to the Fidelity Title and Trust Company of Pittsburg, Pa., asking what should be done with the body. The company has been mentioned in some of Dr. Kahle's correspondence. A reply was received to this letter from Milton,
Mass., and was signed Edward Thaw. The contents of this reply were not made public.

Dr. Kahle, who according to the authorities, derived his title as holder of a scholastic degree from some unidentified university, visited the resort three years ago. He appeared to be somewhat of a recluse, and left after a short stay.
A few weeks ago he again appeared at the resort and stayed there until his death.

SCOUT FORTUNE
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
BOSTON, Aug. 29.—M. J. Carroll, an undertaker in the Hyde Park district, Boston, stated tonight that he had been in telegraphic communication with two firms of undertakers in Ukiah, California, in the last two days
relative to the burial of Dr.
Richard Kahle, and that he was awaiting for persons in Brookline whose names he was not at liberty to divulge.

He said, however, that if Dr.
Kahle was possessor of $5,000,000
he was unaware of the fact. Mr.
Carroll said that he believed that the Brookline residents for whom he was acting had been informed of the death of Dr. Kahle by officials of an institution in Ukiah.
Mr. Carroll intimated, however, that the Brookline citizens did not take much stock in the story of the $5,000,000.

ALD RECLUSE
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
PITTSBURG (Pa.) Aug. 29.—Officers of the Fidelity Title and Trust Company of Pittsburg declared tonight that Dr. Richard Kahle who died suddenly in Ukiah, Cal., leaving an estate reported to be valued at $5,000,000 with no heirs, was an acquaintance of a prominent Pittsburg family, but that they had no business dealings with him.
Dr. Kahle, nor did they have any knowledge of his affairs.

It was said that the company which handles Mr. Thaw's business had from time to time received letters from Dr. Kahle to Mr.
Thaw, and that the letters had been forwarded to Mr.
Thaw. The impression was given that Mr. Thaw had met Dr. Kahle on one of his visits to the Pacific Coast.

SUPPLIED FUNDS
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
MILTON (Mass.) Aug. 29.—Edward Thaw, a wealthy philanthropist, gave instructions from time to time, through the Fidelity Title and Trust Company of Pitsburg, Pa., that funds be placed at the disposal of Dr. Richard Kahle, a German physician whose mind is believed to have become affected while in this country
when the World War broke out.
Mrs. Thaw intimated tonight.

She said that on the death of Dr. Kahle, her husband made arrangements that he be suitably buried there, stating that it was improbable that the dead man had any means of his own. Mr. Thaw of the German physician's plight several years ago through friends, she said, and at that time explained that his needs be taken care of through his Pittsburg bankers.

NEW METAL PLANE

MARSEILLES, Aug. 29.—French aviation officials have completed a series of strain resistance tests on a new model all-metal plane that rapid-fire rifles. Sand bags and lead weights totaling 65,000 pounds were placed on the wings while similar weights were applied to other parts to determine the plane's ability to withstand stress at high speed and high altitudes. The plane is equipped with four 250-horsepower motors. It is capable of carrying fuel to last seven hours at a speed of 115 miles an hour.

tory works are undamaged, but a

the indictment, was reconvened

tivities of certain oil companies.

THE MONEY

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Rear-Admiral York M. Chester, U.S.N., retired, and his associates must accept $200,000 for their rights to the so-called Chester concessions in Turkey and withdraw from all connection with the Ottoman American Development Company, which holds the title to the concessions, reserving for themselves only a 10 per cent interest in its profits, provided the money is secured them by the so-called Canadian group within ninety days,
according to information divulged exclusively to the New York Evening Post today.

On the other hand, if Charles Austin Barnard and his associates in the Canadian group acting for the Ottoman American group, of which they are the principal owners, do not provide within that time for the payment of the money, they are to forfeit to the Chester group all their rights to the concessions under an agreement with the Chesters made on April 19, 1922.

These terms are laid down in the findings of the board of arbitration, which was appointed by mutual agreement under the New York arbitration law last June to settle the disputes which have been for a time to defeat the entire project as an American enterprise.

The arbitrators were Frederick formerly president and managing director of R. Hoe & Co. of New York and London, printing-press

manufacturers, and Rear-Admiral Harry Harwood Rousseau of the

The Little Warrior

BY P. G. WODEHOUSE

They turned the corner, and stopped before a brownstone house, with a long ladder of untidy steps running up to the front door.

"Is this where you live?" Wally asked. He looked at the gloomy place disapprovingly. "You do choose the most awful places!"

"I don't choose them. They're thrust on me. Yes, this is where I live. If you want to know the exact room, it's the third window up there over the front door. Well, good night!"

"Good night," said Wally. He paused.

"I know it's not worth mentioning, and it's breaking our agreement to mention it, but you do understand, don't you?"

"Yes, Wally dear, I understand."

"I'm round the corner, you know, waiting for you. If you've got to change, all you've got to do is just come to me and say 'It's all right.' I'll be there."

Jill laughed a little shakily.

"That doesn't sound very romantic."

"Not sound romantic! If you can think of any three words in the language that sound more romantic, let me have them. Well, never mind how they sound, just say them, and watch the result. But you must get to bed. Good night."

"Good night, Wally."

She passed in through the dingy door. It closed behind her, and Wally stood for some moments staring at it with a gloomy expression. He thought he had never seen a dingier door.

Then he started to walk back to his apartment. He walked very quickly, with clenched hands. He was wondering all the time whether or not something to be said for the methods of the caveman when he went a-wooing. Things of conscience the caveman may have had when all was over, but at least he had established his right to look after the woman he loved.

Chapter Nineteen
"They tell me I am told No, one moment, Miss Frisby."

Mrs. Peagrim wrinkled her forehead. It has been truly said that there is no agony like the agony of literary composition, and Mrs. Peagrim was having rather a bad time setting the requisite snarl and ginger into her latest communication to the press. She bit on the end of her pen, apparently twisting her fingers restlessly through her hair but for the thought of the damage which such an action must do her coiffure.

Miss Frisby, her secretary, an amiable and negative young creature, patiently, pad on knee, and tapped her teeth with her pencil. "Please do not make that tapping noise, Miss Frisby," said the sufferer querulously. "I cannot think, Olie, dear, can't you suggest a good phrase? You ought to be able to, being an author."

Mr. Pilkington, who was strown across a chair by the door, awoke from his meditation, which, to judge from the furrow just above the bridge of his nose, was of a most complicated nature. He had been brooding on this all night, and he wanted to go on brooding now. His aunt's question interrupted his train of thought.

"Oh, don't be so absent-minded!" snapped Mrs. Peagrim, not unjustly annoyed. "I am trying to compose a paragraph for the papers about our party tonight, and I can't get the right phrase."

"What have you written, Miss Frisby?"

Miss Frisby, having turned a pale eye on her notebook, translated them in a pale voice.

"Surely of all the leading hostesses in New York society there can be few more versatile than Mrs. Waddlesworth Peagrim, an amiable every body to the delightful home on West End Avenue to see the scope and variety of her circle of intimates. Here you will see an ambassador withal."

"What a what?" demanded Mrs. Peagrim sharply.

"Fever, I thought you said," replied Miss Frisby stolidly. "I wrote 'fever'."

"Here you will see an ambassador withal from a diva from the opera, exchanging the latest news of the world behind the scenes. There, the author of the latest novel talking literature to the newest debutante. Truly one may say that Mrs. Peagrim has the salon of the salon."

"Salon?" said Miss Frisby unemotionally. "They tell me, I am told, I am informed," she paused. "That's all those last words."

"Scratch out those last words," said Mrs. Peagrim irritably. "You really are hopeless, Miss Frisby! Couldn't you see that I had started dictating and was searching for a phrase? Olie, what is a good phrase for 'I am told'?"

Mr. Pilkington forced his wandering attention to grapple with the problem.

"I hear," he suggested at length.

"Tchah!" ejaculated his aunt. Then her face brightened. "I have it. Take dictation, please, Miss Frisby. A little bird whispers to me that there were great doings last night on the stage of the Gotham Theater after the curtain had fallen on 'The Rose of America,' which, as everybody knows, is the work of Mrs. Peagrim's niece, Miss Frisby."

"Mrs. Peagrim shut a glance at her clever young nephew, to see how he appreciated the hint, but Olie's thoughts were far away once more. He was lying on his spine, brooding, brooding. Mrs. Peagrim resumed her dictation.

"In honor of the extraordinary success of the piece, Mrs. Peagrim, who certainly does nothing by halves, entertained the entire company to a super-dinner after the performance. A number of prominent people were among the guests, and Mrs. Peagrim was a radiant and vivacious hostess. She has never looked more charming. The high jinks were kept up to an advanced hour, and every one enjoyed the evening. There! Type as many copies as are necessary. Miss Fris-by, and send them out this afternoon with photographs."

Miss Frisby having vanished in her pale way, the radiant and vivacious hostess turned on her nephew again.

"I must say, Olie," she began complainingly, "that for a man who has had a success like yours, you are not very cheerful. I thought the notices of the piece would have made you the happiest man in New York."

There was once a melodrama where the child of the persecuted heroine used to dissolve the gallery in tears by saying "Happiness! What is happiness, moth-aw?" Mr. Pilkington did not use these actual words, but he reproduced the stricken infant's tone with great fidelity.

"Notice! What are notices to me?"

"Oh, don't be so affected!" cried Mrs. Peagrim. "Don't pretend that you don't know every word of them by heart!"

"I have not seen the notices, Aunt Olie," said Mr. Pilkington dully.

Peagrim looked at him with positive alarm. She had never been overwhelmingly attached to her long nephew, but since his rise to fame something resembling affection had sprung up in her, and his attitude now disturbed her.

"You sit quite still and rest. I have a severe headache," replied Miss Frisby. "I passed a wakeful night."

"Let me go and mix you a dose of the most powerful mixture," said Mrs. Peagrim maternally. "Poor boy! I don't wonder, after all the nervousness and excitement you sit quite still and rest. I will be back in a moment."

She hustled out of the room, and Mr. Pilkington sagged back into his chair. He had hardly got his meditations going once more, when the door opened and the maid announced "Mayor Selby."

Old Man Offers
Life to Save Dog
Pal From Death

(BY A. F. NIGHT WIRE)

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Dogs that give their lives for their masters are not uncommon. A master ready to lay down his life for his dog appeared at Coney Island today.

Frank Stravel, 89 years of age, was out for a walk with Prince, his Newfoundland pal. Prince stepped on the car of a passing trolley, apparently oblivious of an approaching car. Like his master, he was old and a little deaf.

Stravel rushed in front of the car and pushed Prince to safety. He was struck and his skull fractured. At Coney Island Hospital it was said he probably would die.

Prince tried to follow the running automobile which took his master away, but was quickly left behind. Somewhere on the island this afternoon he was trying to pick up a scent which has gone cold.

MUSHROOMS KILL NINE
(BY A. F. NIGHT WIRE)

BERLIN, Aug. 29.—Nine persons in one family in the village of Friedrichshafed died yesterday as the result of eating poisoned mushrooms. A rather named Heidenreich and he had passed a sleepless night, thinking of the havoc which he had said to his wife. Could she ever forgive him? Would she have the generosity to realize that a man ought not to be held accountable for what he says in the moment when he discovers that he has been cheated, deceived, robbed—in a word, hornswoogled? He had been brooding on this all night, and he wanted to go on brooding now. His aunt's question interrupted his train of thought.

DET CARLS—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.

[Copyright, 1923, Public Ledger.]

WARSAW, Aug. 29.—Despairing of the ability of their respective governments to end an existing state of war over the disputed frontier between Poland and Lithuania and fearing that if the dispute were referred to the League of Nations for settlement a decision might be postponed for a year or two, groups of peasants along the Niemen River frontier between the two countries have made their own peace treaty. Both sides have agreed from the start that the frontier lay somewhere in the middle of the Niemen River. There are, however, a number of fertile islands with grazing possibilities at various points in midstream. The habit of the frontier guards, Polish and Lithuanian, of taking potatoes at peasants trying to graze their cattle on the islands brought home to both sides the economic wastage of war.

EACH SIDE BLAMES OTHER

Officially, the authorities on both sides were innocent of hostile intention. To the Poles, the wicked Lithuanian riflemen were shooting up their unoffending nationals. The Lithuanian authorities attributed full responsibility to the Poles. The peasants on both sides decided that it might not be war, but they preferred to drive their cattle to pasture as live stock instead of beef. And as Warsaw and Kovno were far away and neither capital seemed interested in a quick settlement, the peasants decided to negotiate for themselves.

GUARDS LOAF NOW

Delegates from both sides came together and, with frontier guards looking on, apportioned the islands between the two nationalities. Now peace reigns, the cattle can be driven off the islands on the hoof instead of being dragged off dead, and the frontier guards, though still on duty, find their chief function in pulling Polish and Lithuanian children out of the Niemen when they get over their heads in internationalized swimming holes.

MIDDLE WEST NEWS IN BRIEF

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 29.—Col. E. M. Harbor, president of the Excelsior Trust Company, Excelsior Springs, and F. Thomas, trust officer, have disposed of their stock in the bank to G. E. Wilson, Dr. W. B. Greason, J. M. Summers and W. H. Lile. Mr. Harbor also has resigned as president of the institution.

Sauertown, which has worried Wichita officials for a long time, is on the move at last. After unsuccessfully trying to get them to vacate, the city is now "pumping them out." Municipal authorities finding they could sell the sand accumulated in years gone by along the western banks of the Arkansas River at a handsome price, have put sandboats to work. Every now and then a squatter's shack tumbles into the river and floats away as a sandboat, digs the foundation out from under it.

DETROIT

DETROIT, Aug. 29.—Work will be resumed in a few months at the National Spring and Wire Factory at Albion, after a shut-down of nearly three years. The machinery now in the plant is being removed and new machinery will be installed.

Sylvester Gray, 78 years old.

Kalamazoo, died at the home of his son in Cleveland. He operated a spindle mill in Muskegon until he went to Kalamazoo nineteen years ago to be president of the Kalamazoo Lumber Company.

James H. Milliken, 70, former State Representative and for several years County Treasurer, is dead at his home in Caro, Mich.

ST. PAUL

ST. PAUL, Aug. 29.—The vicinity of Appleton, Minn., was visited by a severe hail storm. Rain accompanied the hail, which covered the ground to the depth of more than one inch. Trees were stripped of their leaves, gardens destroyed and corn ruined. A severe hailstorm accompanied by a strong wind and heavy rain also hit the section of Clinton.

Mrs. William A. Cant, wife of Federal Judge W. A. Cant, died at Duluth, following a paralytic stroke. Mrs. Cant had been a resident of Duluth for thirty-one years.

ST. LOUIS

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 29.—Labor difficulties in the St. Louis building marble industry spread yesterday when about 100 members of the Marble and Tile Settlers' Helpers' Union were instructed by the St. Louis Builders' Trade Council to quit setting marble in support of the strike of marble and slate polishers.

Work on the first big project under the $17,750,000 bond issue of six months ago will begin this week when crews start on the $12,000,000 supplementary water works at Howard's Bend on the Missouri River, eight miles above St. Charles.

DES MOINES

DES MOINES, Aug. 29.—Walter D. James, district manager of the Peoria Life Insurance Company, died suddenly while traveling with a party of men to Canada to attend an insurance convention.

Iowa has an oversupply of school teachers in nearly every county, according to Miss Maye Francis, State Superintendent of Public Instruction. This condition will result in the raising of the standard of teachers, inasmuch as boards of education will have a greater number from which to choose their staffs.

Col. Guy S. Brewer of Des Moines is dead as the result of an automobile smash-up near Collins. His family, who were riding with him, narrowly escaped.

OMAHA

OMAHA, Aug. 29.—Nebraska bank deposits have increased more than $15,000,000 in the last two months. Loans and discounts have increased more than $6,000,000 in the same period, while bills payable and rediscounts have been reduced almost $6,000,000.

Death yesterday summoned George S. Cook, 80 years of age, Civil War veteran and oldest pioneer resident of York. He was among the first white settlers in York county.

INDIANAPOLIS

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 29.—An appeal from the decision of Judge Gary of the St. Joseph Superior Court, in which he upheld the State 2-cent gasoline tax, has been filed in the State Supreme Court by Bruce Gaffill of South Bend, president of the Gaffill Oil Company. Since the tax went into effect Gaffill has been making payments under protest.

Thirty-five head of cattle were burned in a fire which destroyed the cattle barn of Herman Kyle, farmer, near La Fayette.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Darling are visiting in San Diego.

MINNEAPOLIS

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 29.—Miss Barbara Patrick Clark, 31 years of age, daughter of F. A. Patrick, president of the Patrick Company, Duluth manufacturer, obtained a decree of divorce from Dr. Floyd F. Clark, 45. The charge was cruelty and inhuman treatment.

Arrangements have been completed whereby the Elison State Bank and the First National Bank of Montevideo were consolidated. The Elison State Bank will be liquidated and its deposits of $120,000 will be consolidated with the deposits of the First National.

YOUTH SHOT
BY MOTHER,
RECOVERING

Victim Feels Parent Was a "Little Unreasonable" in Wounding Him

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

CHICAGO, Aug. 29.—In good spirits, but still insisting that he would not work until he found a "good paying" job, Deazo Simiz, the youth who was shot by his mother, today faced an operation for the removal of the bullet from his neck.

His life, physicians believe, depends upon the success of the operation. Owing to his strong physique, the chances are in favor of his pulling through, but a relapse, it was said, might prove fatal. Because of the danger of probing for the bullet, due to its proximity to the jugular vein, physicians will first make an X-Ray examination.

At Alexian Brothers Hospital, where he is now a patient, the boy reiterated that he bore no grudge against his mother for trying to kill him to prevent his becoming a bandit, but declared he thought she was a "little unreasonable."

Several of Deazo's boy friends have called to see him at the hospital, but the sympathy of the family and of neighbors is directed toward the mother, who passed a tearful night in the woman's detention quarters at the West Chicago avenue police station.

Torn with remorse, she turned and twisted restlessly upon her cot, moaning "I'm sorry now—so sorry."

The shooting, the mother explained brokenly, was the culmination of her disappointment in the way the boy was turning out.

HORSESHOE PITCHERS
PLAN BIG TOURNAMENT

All of the best horseshoe pitchers in the West, young and old, will gather at Santa Monica next month for the State tournament to be held on the high school athletic field September 5, 6, 7 and 8. The committee in charge of the affair expect an unusually large entry list this year. Cash prizes are offered to the winners of the various events scheduled.

MULLEN & BLUETT CORRECT CLOTHES FOR BOYS

WHAT CLOTHES
WILL YOUR BOY
NEED FOR SCHOOL?

SEPTEMBER 11th is the great day—when the boy starts to school transformed into a more-or-less civilized being—correctly washed, brushed and clothed in tweeds or other decorous raiment. How many months this shining neatness is maintained depends largely on where mother selects the boy's clothes.

Mullen and Bluett make sure that fabrics are exceptionally sturdy—that knickers are strongly reinforced—that pockets, buttons, and seams "stay put". This extra attention to unseen detail is what we mean by "Quality". You know it's there by the extended wear given by Mullen and Bluett clothes.

The SUIT of soft Scotch tweed—with two pairs of knickers, one pair with "golf" knee. For boys of 6 to 17 years. $20.

The SHIRT—or blouse if the boy prefers—may be of percale or madras in good patterns that retain their brightness through innumerable washings. $1.50 to $3.00.

A SWEATER of brushed wool in tan, brown, and green or green heather—either slip-on or button coat style. $6.50 to $10.50.

CORDUROY KNICKERS assist greatly in keeping the boy's school suit from "overwork"—worn with sweater and blouse they make a practical and pleasing change. Double seat and knee. $3.15.

A CAP to wear with the tweed suit or one of plaid Scotch weave may be had for $1.50 to $3.00.

SANTA MONICA

THE MAGIC OF THE SEA

If you ask a million people at home or abroad what the greatest asset of Los Angeles is most of them will probably say climate.

But without the ocean what would its climate be?

If you look at the map you will see that the greatest number of paved highways and electric lines run from the city to the nearest beach on Santa Monica Bay.

If you look for the greatest subdivision activity in Los Angeles you will find unparalleled development extending for more than 10 miles from the city to Santa Monica.

If you look for the biggest crowds of people you will find them by the tens of thousands on Santa Monica beach. It has been estimated that over two hundred thousand people have visited Santa Monica and vicinity in a single day.

If you wish to show your friend the most glorious view in the world, take him to Santa Monica.

If a tourist asks you where to go for the best view, you will be told to go to Santa Monica.

This is the reason the world's people love the water and the sun.

These are things we know now. And what further magic will the sea work?

By the same forces—ocean, climate, topography, beauty and location—the great gathering place of the world's people is at Santa Monica.

We have a Chautauqua and summer schools and camps well started.

We have the splendid municipal auditorium shown on this page as a nucleus for meetings and conventions, and a large auditorium soon to be erected at Pacific Palisades.

Santa Monica will be a great convention place.

Some new moderate sized hotels are assured.

We need one great big beach hotel and one or more large, highest class tourist and all-year hotels and centers of society.

All forces and the logic of the situation compel that there be a great pleasure breakwater, which will shelter the shores of Santa Monica Bay. The Panama Canal did it for Panama. It will bring a great future to Santa Monica and a security that we can never lose.

All this is the magic of the sea at Santa Monica.

The sea never lets off at Santa Monica. It works 365 days each year.

It is consistent in its own attraction and stabilizes the climate.

The scenes you see here vary during the year only in numbers, but not in kind.

With all the natural beauty, comfort and joy of living at Santa Monica, with a million people passing close to the heart of the people of the United States, nothing behind them, would you think that Santa Monica would be precious and very valuable?

It is the heart of the county, the one hundred miles of beach and the greatest interest to the people of the county.

Do not think that these responsibilities are all on Santa Monica's shoulders. They are many times greater than our ability alone and a great part of them are not within our municipal limits.

We have a beach and mountain resort for the present and for the development of the county for the future.

Greater Santa Monica Club invites you to live by the peaceful sea that makes its own seasons.

MISSING GIRL IS BELIEVED DEAD

Bakersfield Child Last Seen One Week Ago

Thorough Search is Made in Los Angeles

Hunt Will be Continued in San Francisco

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH) BAKERSFIELD, Aug. 29.—That Nellie Deane, 14-year-old school girl, missing from her home, 1239 Niles street, since last Thursday has been brutally treated and probably slain, is the opinion of Mrs. W. E. Shaffer of Los Angeles, sister of the missing girl, who returned from Los Angeles Tuesday following a futile search.

"I know Nellie too well to have any hope now of ever seeing her alive again," Mrs. Shaffer said. "If she were still living she has the resourcefulness and intelligence to have found some method of communicating with us. Mother, who is now frantic with grief, believes as I do."

"If officers do not find her today," she will start to San Francisco tomorrow to work with officers there in searching for her."

A. E. Deane, brother of the girl, is here from Los Angeles adding in the search. He is more hopeful of finding his sister alive.

Mrs. Henry P. Shafels, mother of the girl, Mrs. Shaffer and the brother all insist that Nellie did not go away of her own accord, but believe she was kidnapped from a theater where she was last seen alive.

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent PASADENA, Aug. 29.—An old man and a young boy, both riding bicycles, were seriously injured almost at the same time today when both were struck by automobiles.

Andrew Carson, 13 years of age, had his foot badly crushed beneath the wheels of a heavy truck driven by C. C. Moschler, 147 West Peoria street. The police say the boy rode out of Central Park without giving a trunk signal. Several bones in the foot were broken. Carson lives 1008 Locust street.

Les J. Pliner, 13, who lives at 127 Herkimer street, suffered injuries to his back when he came in collision with an automobile driven by M. T. White, 1714 Las Lunas street.

Both patients were treated by Dr. C. W. Symonds at the Emergency Hospital. They are now at the Pasadena Hospital for further treatment and examination.

BANNER BEAN YEAR

Good Price Predicted for Baby Lima Beans in San Fernando

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE) VAN NUYS, Aug. 29.—President W. J. Pettit of the Lima Bean Growers Association states that this year will be the banner year for baby lima beans in the San Fernando Valley. He predicts an opening price of 7 cents a pound, which, he says, will soon reach 1 1/2 and perhaps more. The association will, in all probability, make an advance payment of 5 cents a pound on delivery of beans to the warehouse, such a payment being at least 10 cents above that made last year. This assures a market for every pound of baby lima produced in the valley. The yield also is expected to be the largest in history due to weather of minimum temperature and excessive rainfall. The beans necessary to a maximum crop. Some of the bean growers have been compelled to replant, but the expense involved in doing so has been met by the unusually good stand following.

The acreage is about the same as last year, according to official reports received. No survey has been made, however, by the association.

CANNERY TO OPEN

Tomato Crop at Van Nuys Ready for Handling

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE) VAN NUYS, Aug. 29.—The Van Nuys Packing Company announces the opening of a cannery for the fall run on tomatoes about September 1. It has contracted for the production of 250 acres which is expected to yield over 1800 tons which will be canned. The price paid is 2 1/2 cents a ton at the roadside and an additional payment for the trucking of the tomatoes to the cannery. The Van Nuys Packing Company will follow the tomato pack with the spinach pack and it is expected this will continue into April of next year. Last year 40,000 cases of spinach were packed here.

Announcement was made today that the Van Nuys plant of Golden State canneries would not open on the tomato pack this year but would accept all tomatoes from a 50-acre contract and ship them to a Los Angeles plant for manufacture into catsup. It is estimated that from the acreage under contract by the Golden State dealer over 3500 tons will be produced.

San Bernardino County Schools Need Huge Sums

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE) SAN BERNARDINO, Aug. 29.—During the coming year it will cost about $2,000,000 to run the schools of this county, according to the figures just made public by Miss Ida Collins, County Superintendent of Schools. The estimates in the budgets from all districts are disclosed prior to the recent record-breaking exploit. The flight Monday and Tuesday demonstrated that the county's schools are in a financial straits.

Almost half of it is for high schools. A total of more than $800,000. The elementary schools will need almost $1,000,000, and the kindergartens will manage to struggle along on about $44,000. This includes money raised for all school purposes, county and district taxation, as well as State aid.

A comparison of the elementary expenses for the past year and that of the year before show a slight decrease because of the economy program practiced in all districts. The county's total for the year will be $960,000 this year, and the high school $224,700. Redlands School expenses will be about $175,000. It will cost about $125,000 to run San Bernardino High School. Colton High School will need about $45,000. It will cost about $125,000 to maintain the grade schools in Redlands for the coming year, or a total of $300,000 for all, making it cost about $120 per pupil per year.

Sea Contact With the World in Development a Few Miles From Santa Ana—NEWPORT HARBOR

Shipping congestion in Southern California will soon be relieved by the development of Newport Harbor. $875,000.00 have already been spent on a 2100-ft. breakwater and a channel the entire length of the lower basin. $1,000,000.00 more is proposed for the immediate future to complete the dredging, another jetty to insure a clear channel, and to build wharves, warehouses and belt line railroad.

Industrial expansion close by is inevitable. With the lure of cheap water transportation, cheap fuel and plenty of cheap factory sites in the area between Santa Ana and the Harbor, industry on a large scale is coming.

Santa Ana thus has another great foundation for material success. Upon the ability of manufacturers and home builders to recognize NOW the advantages of taking part in the inception of this development, depends the extent to which they will profit.

NO CHANGE IN COTTON REPORT

Condition Statement Due on Saturday of Interest

Los Angeles Importers Hear About Slump in China

Permanent Trustee Named in Cootie Bankruptcy

Cotton in California, Arizona and Lower California will show practically an unchanged condition from last month in the government report which will be released Saturday.

if the opinion of leading cotton merchants here is correct, a slight seasonal deterioration from the condition of eighty-eight reported on July 25 may occur from heat and outworm reports, but the majority of the merchants are confident that the crop is little affected by the weather and the pest.

During the first three weeks of September, the Imperial Valley acreage will be through the critical period of the season. Excessive heat in that district sometimes develops with sufficient energy to injure the crop, but the season's warm spell reducing the yield about 25 per cent. It is believed that if this possibility is avoided, the valley will make over 100,000 bales of cotton this season.

Some reports of outworms in Lower California are heard, but cotton men assert that the action of this pest will improve rather than harm the crop. The outworm works on the foliage of the plant, and destroys some of the excessive growth, allowing the sun and light to enter.

Speculators are watching with considerable interest the action of the New York market as it awaits the announcement of the government forecast, Saturday. The traders are divided into two groups, one affirming that the rains in Texas arrived too late to alleviate the effects of the drought, and the other contending that the final crop will be much larger than the bulls have confidently forecast as a result of their own exaggerated reports of crop damage.

The wisest of the traders, however, are aware that only two contingencies can prevent a strong bullish market. These, they say, are an exact determination of the improvement produced by the rains in Texas, which would revise existing opinions, and the continuance of the nonbuying policy apparently adopted by the mills.

Detailed reports current in the market say that shedding and premature opening of the bolls has been checked in Texas, but the rains have evidently come too late to assist in making as good a crop as was expected earlier in the season. Progress has been fair in Oklahoma, with shedding and premature opening retarded, and plants beginning to put on new growth.

Arkansas cotton is expected to make a good yield, but little change is expected in Louisiana. Plants are fruiting poorly in Mississippi, while an excess of wet weather in Alabama has caused further deterioration. Increasing weevil and worm reports emanate from Tennessee, with Georgia and the Carolinas suffering from the same evils.

SLUMP IN CHINA

Uncertainties growing out of the lack of a stable government in Peking are restraining the activities of exporters and importers in China, who are harassed on one side by the holders of bandits and on the other by the inability to secure enforcement of contracts. These factors are compelling a re- port received from their oriental representative by Schiff-Landau Company, importers and exporters of this city, are compelling business to virtually mark time.

Quotations from the report reveal the following situation in the Chinese republic: Ever since the World War, when the German and Austrian business houses in China had to quit business, and their proprietors and clerks of German and Austrian nationality were driven out of this country, when all able-bodied English, French, Belgians, Italians and Japanese left for home to join the colors, and foreign affairs in China were left to a few stay-behinds, business affairs took a decided slump, then quickly faded again until there was a full-fledged boom, like in the United States.

Grape Situation as Revealed by New Survey; Review of Business; Some Retarding Influences

The California grape crop will be probably 25 per cent less in tonnage than was anticipated during the early spring months because of drought and windburn, according to reports just received by the research department of the First National Bank and the Pacific National Bank and Savings Bank. However, the 1923 crop will be only slightly less than last year's and will very likely be the second largest in the history of the grape industry considered on a fresh grape tonnage basis.

The San Joaquin Valley from Bakersfield north has suffered severely from mildew, some districts having from 30 per cent to 70 per cent of the crop affected by this infection. In the Sacramento Valley only the Lodi district is materially affected. The Fresno and Tulare districts will probably suffer from very heavy losses from the infection while Visalia, Hanford and Lemoore will escape with less injury and the Lindsay district will suffer but slightly. Those varieties showing the greatest infection are the Malagas, Muscats, Thompsons and Emperors.

The cool and cloudy weather of spring and early summer caused the germinating of mildew over a wide area and in greater extent than ever before in the history of the industry. Most of the growers did not realize the extensive mildew this disease was making and did not take the extraordinary measures of sulphuring which appear would have been highly advisable. It is believed, however, that the warm weather of August has effectively stopped the spread of mildew and that the damage proved to be less than formerly estimated.

It is difficult to estimate just what the final effects of the mildew infection will be upon the distribution of the crop, the prices, and the tonnage of the three grape varieties. Raisins and table grapes appear to have suffered more than wine grapes. The Sun-Maid Raisin growers have given an final estimate of the crop, and the State Department of Agriculture has issued an emergency order to the effect that grapes containing more than 10 per cent mildew must be shipped in containers labeled "inferior" and the use of such grapes for food purposes is prohibited.

TANK STEAMER
IS LIMPING INHoven Making Way to Harbor Under Own PowerGreat Hole is Torn in Bow
on Striking RockAid Refused; Boat Declared in No Danger

The tank steamer Hoven, a great hole in her bow below the water line, is limping toward Los Angeles Harbor today at half-speed under her own power. She is expected to arrive here at noon tomorrow, when her cargo of oil will be discharged into another vessel and work of repairing the damage begun.

Radiograms received yesterday afternoon by the Radio Corporation of America from the Hoven's captain, Frank Sweeting, stated that the vessel is in no danger and will be easily able to make port without assistance. The messages stated that a portion of the cargo had been lost.

The Hoven, which is owned by the United States Shipping Board and is under charter to Walker & Daley of New York, struck a rock Tuesday night near San Benito Island off the coast of Lower California. A great hole was torn in her forward part below the water line. She was towed to Los Angeles by the tugboat Corinto, Haygood and Antietam.

When they arrived at the spot, however, the damage had been repaired and Capt. Sweeting refused proffered assistance. The three steamers have proceeded on their way, leaving the Hoven to make port under her own power.

The Hoven left Los Angeles Harbor on the 27th inst. with a cargo of 60,000 barrels of crude oil for New York. She was built at Sparrows Point, Md., in 1919 by the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation and has a net tonnage of 4,312 tons.

She is a sister ship to the tanker Duquesne, which recently collided with the steamer El Abeto off the northern coast of California.

NOW FACES SENTENCE
Mrs. Ethel Coates, alias Mrs. Al Everett, and who gives her address as 125 West Forty-sixth street, was arrested yesterday by Detectives Rathbun and Blackman. According to the officers, Mrs. Coates pleaded guilty to a charge of shoplifting before Judge Fredrickson on June 18. She was released on bail, but never appeared for sentence. A warrant was sworn out and her arrest followed.

They met eight years ago at the old Edison studios in New York, when Durning was a property boy and Miss Mason a child star. Recently, Durning directed his wife in a number of productions for Fox.

According to a wire received last night by Viola Dana, funeral services will be held at the home of Mrs. Alexander Patton, the director's mother, in Bell Harbor, L. I. Mrs. Harold Shaw leaves for the East today, her husband and Viola Dana being unable to make the trip on account of productions upon which they are working at the Metro studios.

DEATH THIRD IN FAMILY
The death of Bernard Durning is the third tragedy to befall this well-known motion-picture family. Six years ago, Viola Dana lost her husband, John Collins, at the time of the influenza epidemic. Until his death, Mr. Collins had directed every picture in which his wife had appeared. Miss Dana has never remarried.

Six months ago Mrs. Emil Fluehrth died at the Fluehrth home in Hollywood. Her illness served to reunite the three sisters, the eldest, known to the screen as Edna Fluehrth, giving up a starring contract in England to reach the bedside of her mother. Since her return to America, Miss Fluehrth has appeared on the screen with Viola Dana.

CHARGE LARCENY OF JOB SEEKER'S BONDS

A novel method for obtaining money from job seekers was ascribed to C. A. Heinrich yesterday, in a complaint issued by Dep. Dist. Atty. Burton, charging grand larceny. N. C. Crandall, complaining witness, said he answered Heinrich's advertisement in a local newspaper, asking for manager of a mine at Petaluma, Mex. He said he gave $500 cash bond, and that Heinrich then disappeared. Heinrich is accused of offering similar positions to men in San Francisco, with similar consequences.

financial hands, and that the only thing that can prevent the erection of the plant at this point and the placing of Los Angeles Harbor in a dominant position as to the future steel industry of the Pacific States of Arizona, New Mexico, Utah and Colorado, by a branch line of the Santa Fe Railroad from a point near Gallup, N. M., and westward to Los Angeles.

It will also mean the opening of the great San Juan Basin, which lies at the corner of the four States of Arizona, New Mexico, Utah and Colorado, by a branch line of the Santa Fe Railroad from a point near Gallup, N. M., and westward to Los Angeles. In addition to the great Mesa Verde and the measures of coal, very active operations for oil are being conducted by the Mid-West Oil Company, a Standard subsidiary engaged both in producing and refining. Other companies also are carrying on developments. Two wells have been brought in and others have large quantities of gas. Sixteen rigs are now going in the area.

ABUNDANCE OF WATER
The basin has an abundance of water and is capable of a large agricultural and cattle development. The Mesa Verde National Park, with the oldest cliff dwellings in the United States, is also an interesting and attractive spot.

E. M. Wilson, president of the Pacific Coast Steel Company and also of the Pacific Coke and Coal Company, said last night the location of the first blast furnace to be erected in California at Los Angeles Harbor will mark an important epoch in the development of the steel industry on the Pacific Coast.

"Heretofore our plants have been confined almost entirely to the use of scrap as a raw material in the making of pig iron, because of the high cost of pig iron, which must be transported at prohibitive expense from the East."

"After the most careful examination of all of the coals available for the making of the high quality of coke necessary in the operation of modern blast furnaces of the largest size, including the Utah coals, made by actual tests in by-product ovens, we have been forced to the conclusion that the San Juan Basin contains a large quantity of one of the finest coals in the country—the only other coals on the Coast comparable with it being found in the State of Washington."

"The San Bernardino iron ores and coals of a very high grade and an abundance of limestone within easy reach of the harbor, an assemblage point for deep water, cheap transportation by water to our coast plants in San Francisco,

Portland and Seattle, should make for a most economic operation.

UP TO SANTA FE
"Our exhaustive investigations have led us to the same conclusion reached by the late Mr. E. H. Harriman, who, shortly before his death, acquired large bodies of coal land in the same area as the San Juan Basin and ore properties in San Bernardino county with the plan of assembling his raw materials in a pig-iron production plant at Los Angeles. His plan was not carried out after his death."

"If the Santa Fe Railroad will build an extension from its lines into the coal fields of the San Juan Basin and those interested in the development of the Los Angeles and Long Beach harbors will give us deep water, our by-product coke ovens and blast furnaces will be located at this point. These matters are now under consideration by the proper railroad and civic officials."

The officers of the new Pacific Coast Steel Company, announced Judge E. M. Wilson, president of the Pacific Coast Steel Company of San Francisco; D. E. McLaughlin, vice-president of the Pacific Coast Steel Company; T. C. Gregory, vice-president and general counsel; San Francisco; Edward Van Assum, coke oven expert; Wallace Sheehan, secretary.

PERU GUESTPinto Finds Coast Cities
Not Aware of Opportunities
in South America

Gustavo A. Pinto, Peruvian statesman and capitalist, in an address at the City Club luncheon yesterday, lauded the Monroe Doctrine and advocated closer relationship between the two Americas.

Introduced by Nathan Newby, president of the club, Mr. Pinto acknowledged the introduction by a few words in Spanish, his message was then read by Dr. V. M. Egan.

Mr. Pinto, in addition to being a member of the Peruvian Legislature, is president of the Southern Regional Congress of Peru, and while he was here in an official capacity, he took occasion to urge that obligatory arbitration be adopted by the countries of the world for the settlement of disputes, and declared that immediate steps should be taken to bring about a more intimate knowledge of the commercial resources of South America in the United States.

He emphasized the fact that although far removed from Europe, most of Peru's export trade goes to the United States, while the United States, especially the cities on the Pacific Coast, have not yet awakened to opportunities of trade with Peru and other South American countries.

TROLLEYWAY OPENING
SUITS TO BE PRESSED

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

VENICE, Aug. 29.—Action against the Pacific Electric Railway Company and other owners of property in the proposed South Trolleyway opening will be started immediately, according to George Crouch, consulting attorney for the opening of North and South Trolleyway.

The railway company will pave the land between tracks and eighteen inches on each side, while the cost of the remainder of the paving will be met by residents through an assessment of the property.

Mr. Crouch explained that in 1919 he had been advised by the city engineer's office, prior to the clearing of the matter in court. As soon as clear titles are obtained for the entire strip of territory from Mildred to Nautilus avenue, the resolution of intention to proceed will be presented to the Board of Trustees.

TWO BOYS ARRESTED ON BURGLARY CHARGE

An oil station attendant watched two boys climb the fire escape of the Consolidated Realty Building, Sixth and Hill streets, yesterday afternoon. Then he called the police. Detective Lieutenant Wolfe found them on the roof with a check protector which they had taken from the office of the West Coast Finance Company. They were held to the Juvenile Court on charges of burglary.

called and told me of the Schneider agreement."

Mr. DeDonato is the owner of the California Intelligence Service Bureau, with offices in the I. W. Hellman Building. He makes a specialty of reporting on promotion schemes for a list of clients. Demands also were made upon Russ by Mr. Goodell that letters he had been induced to sign in his capacity as chairman of the executive committee of the American Narcotic Crusade be recalled.

"Several men were sent to me," Mr. Goodell explained, "with the request that I give them letters which they were to present to certain influential people. I signed the letters under the impression that the launching of the crusade was a humanitarian move. I have asked Mr. Russ to call in those letters. Some letters which he has sent me to sign I have thrown into the wastebasket."

In explaining how he had been induced to serve upon the executive committee, Mr. Goodell stated that Harry Stevens had telephoned him at his office and asked him to head the committee.

"I asked him," Mr. Goodell declared, "who were members of the committee and he named several men prominent in Los Angeles affairs. I knew a few of them personally, among them Dale Parks and John D. Fredericks, and I responded that I would go along with men like that any time."

It was not until Mrs. Angela Kaufman, Russ and with several others, started on our trip to San Clemente Island that I discovered there appeared to be no decided course of action. It seemed that they had no definite plan.

"Subsequently I had lunch with Mr. Russ and during the discussion outlined what I considered to be a sound plan. This plan was drawn up as a resolution and signed by a number of men."

"It is this resolution that is being used by auditors to secure subscribers. That was not my purpose in drawing it up."

In reply to a question as to how his executive committee had been organized Russ declared that Harry Stevens, of the Lions Club, had secured members for him.

It was learned that Richard P. Hobson, president of the International Narcotic Education Association, was the first to withdraw from the American Narcotic Crusade. Capt. Hobson's name is shown on a pamphlet published by the crusade as one of its honorary directors.

No city ordinance exists to govern the percentage of subscriptions that may be paid solicitors. City Prosecuting Attorney J. M. Friedman ruled yesterday, the existing city ordinance, No. 4,993, dealing with the organization and conduct of the Social Welfare Commission, is weak, in the opinion of the City Prosecutor.

The existing ordinance, he declared, is aimed at charitable and philanthropic enterprises, and I doubt whether it could be construed to cover this matter.

"A few years ago the city had an outright ordinance covering all such cases, but it was vitiated by a ruling of the State Supreme Court in the case of William J. Dart."

Mr. Friedman's name also appears upon the set of resolutions drawn up by Mr. Goodell.

"The paper was brought to me by an elderly lady," he explained, "who told me that she had a son who was an addict. All right-thinking people, I believe, are interested in the suppression of the narcotic evil, and I signed it. I did not know that it was to be used for soliciting subscriptions."

"Now, however, I would join in any move to have the names upon that paper rescinded."

TICKET RUSH NOW ON
FOR PILGRIMAGE PLAYPERFORMANCES WILL CLOSE
SEPTEMBER 8; NO GROUP
PARTIES IN LAST WEEK

Nine performances remain for the 1923 season of the Pilgrimage Play, in its natural amphitheater in the Hollywood hills. The announcement that the spectacle will close September 8 has occasioned a rush to obtain tickets by those who have not seen the play.

Tonight a large party of Pomona residents will attend in a body, and a group of girls from the Y.W.C.A. will form a party. Tomorrow night, under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce of Long Beach, there will be a party from that city, while a party of fifty members of the Fullerton Baptist Church also plans to attend.

The sponsors of the play have announced that there will be no group excursions to the play during the last week, because of the individual demand for tickets. While exact figures are not available, it is expected by the management that the present season will surpass any previous year in point of attendance.

On crisp green lettuce, cool fresh fruit or cold vegetables—French Dressing—the simplest and yet quite the most sophisticated of all salad dressings.

6 tablespoonfuls of Wesson Oil
2 tablespoonfuls of lemon juice or vinegar
½ teaspoonful of salt
A few grains each of paprika and pepper
Stir Well!

Add a little chopped onion or cheese or the crumbled yolk of a hard boiled egg or chives or mustard or Worcestershire Sauce or any seasoning, to give this dressing a new relish whenever you want a change.

Wesson Oil

For Making Good Things to Eat

For Delicious French Dressing

Wesson Oil is so pure, clear and light in color that it would be mighty pretty in a glass bottle. Have you ever wondered why, then, we put it in a tin can? The fact is that sunlight—or daylight for that matter—gradually spoils the delicate flavor of an oil. Would you rather have a plain tin can full of the finest oil you ever tasted—and the most delicate in flavor—or a handsome bottle of oil that wasn't as good as we know how to make it? You vote for the tin can, of course. So do we.

BY BEN A. MARKSON

We suggest that the Stovers, Mrs. Dena Kray Stover and F. R. Stover, evangelists, compose a march entitled "The Grail of the Sawdust Trail." There is such a persuasive quality to their music and singing. Many a weary penitent has heard the call of faith trumpeted like a message from Gabriel by the Stovers on their cornets.

The musical evangelists presented a program last night for RadioLand, assisted by Mary E. R. Foreman, pianist; Roberta Taylor, cellist, and A. Stothamley, violinist.

Mrs. Stover furnished the melody obligato for Billy Sunday's peripatetic religious parables during two campaign terms, acting in the same capacity for the teams of Clifford Layton, John Brown and her husband, Mr. Stover, in addition to his own campaigns, directed the music for religious workers with Evangelists McConnell and Brown.

The Stovers are known in many of the principal cities of the United States for the splendid temperance and fine quality of their music.

VOCAL SOLOS PLEASE

They made no attempt last night to subside listeners-in to the cause of evangelism, their offerings consisting in the main of accepted song classics. Mary E. R. Foreman at the Knabe gave excellent accompaniment to the singing and instrumental numbers.

Dena Kray Stover's vocal solos in lovely mezzo-soprano included "In Italy," "The Last Rose of Summer," "My Lullaby," and "The Peppermint." She gave two humorous pianoliques, and further, in vocal duet with F. R. Stover, baritone, sang "Witness," a jubilee song.

F. R. Stover rendered "Fleeing Hagar," a cornet solo pleasing in tone; the cornet duet with Mrs. Stover held an amity and harmony in "Miserere," "Sunshine of Your Smile," and "Perfect Day."

Roberta Taylor's cello solo, "The Rosary," imparted the gentle beauty of sincerity. The cello strings sang with resonant depth.

Mr. Stothamley's violin solos included "Fantasia on 'Le Tricorne,'" and "Wandering Home." He is a resident of Long Beach.

Dr. Mary E. R. Foreman, pianist and lecturer, gave a popular science talk on the planet, Mercury.

Like a bright little tale with a happy ending was the interpretation of Rubinstein's "Romance" by the Orris Cook Concert Trio, featuring players of the matinee and noon broadcast periods. The trio was a skilled combination in the Algera E. Flat Major trio and the Rogers G. Minor trio. "Intermezzo," by MacBeth, and "Told Twilight," by Prior, were of fine accord in ensemble.

The Orris Cook Concert Trio is composed of Clarence L. Cook, violinist; Carl S. Nordholm, cellist; and Orris Cook, pianist. Orris Cook, head of this group of youthful chamber recitalists, is a pupil of the noted May MacDonald Hope. She rounded out the programs with solo, her own fine contributions including the first movement of a Schumann sonata and a Liszt Etude. Clarence L. Cook's violin solos were "Adoration," by Borowski, and "Carolina," by Bohm.

"At Dawning," by Cadman, and "Andante" from Golderman's Concert No. 4, were Carl S. Nordholm's cello offerings.

Wife Says Mate Spent Time With Another Woman

Declaring that her husband spent most of his time with Betty Coss, said to be a private secretary for Judge Reeve's court, Mrs. Margaret Morrison, pianist, will play "K-H-J The Times" today for her husband's sake.

During the year preceding their separation, which took place October 14, 1932, Mrs. Morrison asserted that her husband stayed out late at least three nights a week, and also made a habit of taking week-end trips without telling her where he went.

The complaint stated that Duncan purchased a mesh handbag for Miss Coss, but the lady refused to accept it because it was not sterling silver. Duncan then purchased a sterling silver bag which was accepted and also bought a lorgnette for Miss Coss's mother. Both of these gifts were purchased with community funds, the wife asserted.

When confronted by his wife with proof of his relations with other women Duncan admitted that ever since his marriage he had been associating with women other than his wife, Mrs. Morrison declared.

Wife Wins Suit

Questioned Her

Breaking by Archibald May of a prenuptial agreement that neither party to the marriage was to ask any questions was cited by Mary May, motion-picture actress, as a reason for the dissolution of the marriage in Judge Summerfield's court yesterday. The judge granted the decree.

"I never asked him anything," said Mrs. May. "I did not know what he worked at or how much he made. But he kept questioning me all the time."

Besides asking questions, May got drunk and was abusive, Mrs. May testified. They were married in 1916 and separated last year.

Massachusetts authorities have been notified.

BELIEVE MESSENGER
BOY GONE TO CANADA

No word has been received from Fred Cartwright, 15-year-old messenger boy for the Shinn-Holtz-Lyon Company, who disappeared Monday morning with a $244.45 deposit in his pocket. The boy is believed by Detective Lieutenant Katzenburger to be on his way to the former Carewell home at Bradford, Ont. Insurance as all but the $127 cash involved has been returned by mail to the firm. It was intimated there would be no prosecution.

LARGE ESTATES ARE SIMILAR

Two estates which bear some degree of similarity are valued at more than $500,000 in the report of the income tax appraiser, filed here yesterday. The estates are those of John Drury Lavin and Robert McFadden.

The former died February 20, 75 years of age, leaving an estate valued at $225,408.66. The latter died May 8, last, also a few months past 75, and left an estate valued at $259,050.11.

These two septuagenarian Angelenos had been personal friends during their lifetimes. Both had been born in Ireland and had come to America when boys. And both had come to California more than a quarter of a century ago.

John Drury Lavin divided his estate among a great number and a substantial portion of it was left to charitable institutions, all of these institutions for the care of either the aged or for boys. Two such institutions which received bequests are located in Los Angeles.

The largest bequest in the Lavin will is that of $43,159 and a share in the residue of the estate after all bequests are paid. He left $100,000 to the House of Nazareth, in the city of Hugo, Ireland, for the care of orphans and destitute old men and women is bequeathed $100,000.

Joseph T. Markham, a nephew, and Marian C. Markham, a niece, receive $15,000 each. Eighteen other nephews and nieces are bequeathed sums varying from $500 to $14,000.

AGED REMEMBERED

Homes for the aged, conducted by the Little Sisters of the Poor in Los Angeles, Chicago, Detroit and Minneapolis are to receive $300 each. The House of Nazareth, in the city of Hugo, Ireland, for the care of orphans and destitute old men and women is bequeathed $100,000.

sopranoDEFENSE IN BOATWRIGHT
CASE ENDED

But Two Witnesses Called
in Refutation of Charge in Beasley Slaying

Counsel for Thurman Boatwright, accused of the murder on May 19 of Felix Beasley, rested the case yesterday in Judge Reeve's court after examining two defense witnesses.

Detective Lieutenant Cato was called to testify that at the scene of the slaying of Beasley on a boulevard between Los Angeles and the harbor district, he saw wheel tracks of an automobile which backed up and turned around. The purpose of this testimony was to substantiate the assertions of Boatwright that Beasley was shot by a handit for refusing to let him into the car when he was commanded.

Joe Singer, a gunsmith, testified that the cartridges found in Beasley's pocket were for Beasley's own revolver and that they were the same kind with which Beasley was killed. It is the theory of the prosecution, conducted by the District Attorney, that Beasley was shot by his own weapon in the hands of Boatwright. The defendant is represented by Frank Alexander.

According to the complaint which was filed yesterday in Superior Court, McFarlin made a charge of shoplifting and then charged with the slaying of a man in a drunken brawl, he refused to hear any more, he declared in a suit for divorce and custody of their two children.

ENGLISH INCOME TAX

The Average Taxpayer Gives up to Government 22 1/2 Per Cent

Before the war, the normal income tax in England came to a shilling in the pound of the income received. During the war, it was rapidly raised to six shillings in the pound, and at the last budget statement it was lowered from five shillings in the pound to four and six pence in the pound. In other words, the average taxpayer pays four shillings and six pence on every pound of income which he receives (22 1/2 per cent). The law which governs the various allowances in accordance with the position, means and responsibilities, while the more fortunate have to pay an additional income tax which is called super tax, and which is imposed upon income of 2000 pounds and more. By means of the various allowances for the less well-to-do and of variable additions for the more prosperous, a scientific graded scale has been created. Income tax begins with a fraction of one per cent on small incomes, and rises to about fifty per cent in the case of very large incomes.

At death, property pays from one to forty per cent, and those who wish to leave their property undiminished must every year put aside an amount sufficient for the payment of taxes. The estate and death duties are, therefore, merely a kind of income and super tax, which has been paid only once in a while, and if yearly provisions for the estate and succession duties are made, the total income tax is brought up in many cases to eighty per cent and more.—[J. Ellis Barker in Current History.]

Doctor Disappointed

A young doctor opened a brand-new surgery he waited all day without a visitor, until at last a breathless man came running up the stairs.

"Sit down," said the doctor, soothingly, "what can I do for you?"

"I must get on the telephone," at once, gasped the visitor. "My wife is ill and I want to ring up my doctor."—[Exchange.]

PROPRIETOR'S BLUNDER

The proprietor of a certain shop recently received a letter from his employees informing him of their indifference to his indifference in the matter of possible sales.

One day, hearing an assistant say to a customer, "No, we have not had any for a long time," the proprietor, unable to containance such an admission, began to work himself up into the usual rage. Fixing a glassy eye on his assistant, he said to the customer: "We have plenty in reserve, ma'am—plenty downstairs!"

Whereupon the customer looked dazed; and then, to the amazement of the proprietor, burst into hysterical laughter and left the shop. "What did she say to you?" demanded the proprietor of the assistant.

"We haven't had any rain lately!"—[Exchange.]

RENTING EVENING CLOTHES

The time may come when college boys will own dress suits and tuxedos, but at the present time, a large majority of the elite of American colleges borrow or rent a suit to wear on formal occasions. The observance recently happened to be included in a group of young men who were planning a party. A number of details had been worked out when one of the young men brought up a very vital question by asking: "Is this party to be formal or can we wear our own clothes?"—[Columbus Dispatch.]

LARGE ESTATES ARE SIMILAR

Two Septuagenarian Friends of Lifetime Came From Ireland in Youth and Died Here Recently

Two estates which bear some degree of similarity are valued at more than $500,000 in the report of the income tax appraiser, filed here yesterday. The estates are those of John Drury Lavin and Robert McFadden.

The former died February 20, 75 years of age, leaving an estate valued at $225,408.66. The latter died May 8, last, also a few months past 75, and left an estate valued at $259,050.11.

These two septuagenarian Angelenos had been personal friends during their lifetimes. Both had been born in Ireland and had come to America when boys. And both had come to California more than a quarter of a century ago.

John Drury Lavin divided his estate among a great number and a substantial portion of it was left to charitable institutions, all of these institutions for the care of either the aged or for boys. Two such institutions which received bequests are located in Los Angeles.

The largest bequest in the Lavin will is that of $43,159 and a share in the residue of the estate after all bequests are paid. He left $100,000 to the House of Nazareth, in the city of Hugo, Ireland, for the care of orphans and destitute old men and women is bequeathed $100,000.

Joseph T. Markham, a nephew, and Marian C. Markham, a niece, receive $15,000 each. Eighteen other nephews and nieces are bequeathed sums varying from $500 to $14,000.

AGED REMEMBERED
Homes for the aged, conducted by the Little Sisters of the Poor in Los Angeles, Chicago, Detroit and Minneapolis are to receive $300 each. The House of Nazareth, in the city of Hugo, Ireland, for the care of orphans and destitute old men and women is bequeathed $100,000.

There are nine bequests of from $500 to $1000 to homes for boys. Included in this list is the bequest to the Daughters of Charity of St. Vincent de Paul, for the use of the Los Angeles Orphan Asylum, at Boyle Heights.

The widow, Anna McFadden, is the principal legatee of Robert McFadden, who died in 1921. McFadden is given a one-half equity in 400 acres of land in Kern county. Anna McFadden Schweisberger, daughter, receives $10 acres in Kern county, while Eleanor Babcock, a friend, is bequeathed a house and lot in Santa Ana and the deceased's interest in the Black Building, at the corner of Fourth and Hill streets.

All of the residue of the estate is left to the widow.

Names of the persons in the restaurant at the time were taken. A score of bottles of wine were brought in for evidence, together with a bottle of liquid emptied by Officer Hoy from the trap of the Simk, into which the wine was poured. Marco, according to police, is the owner of the place. The restaurant is on the second floor.

Boxes Every Day To KEEP IN CONDITION

To keep physically fit for his work as a star in Fox film entertainments, Charles "Buck" Jones boxes four fast rounds with his trainer each morning before breakfast. For this purpose, he has had a regulation prize-ring constructed in the rear of his Hollywood home, at 1425 Hayworth avenue.

The star has at various times put the gloves with many ring celebrities past and present, according to his friends Jones brandishes a mean pair of "dukes." In his "Big Dan" his current rating vehicle, the star is called upon to display his prowess as a two-fisted fighter and the matter of the honors only too well is attested to by the villain of the story, who is recuperating from a recent encounter with "Big Dan."

Mr. Campbell gave up $39 in cash and $415 in checks. Mr. Campbell donated a diamond ring worth $500. Police Detectives White, Redican and Ar. strong are investigating.
